

DR. HARVEY W. WILEY, U. S. FOOD EXPERT, WILL WRITE FOR THE DAY BOOK ONLY

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is the most noted authority on food in the world.

The Day Book has arranged with Dr. Wiley to write a series of articles on food for the benefit of readers of The Day Book.

No other magazine or newspaper in Chicago will have these articles.

Dr. Wiley is the great champion of the people in the war against adulteration of the things we all eat and drink.

He will tell you things about food and drink that will be of great value to every man, woman and child who reads these articles.

He will tell what food is best for you, whether you are sick or well, young or old, fat or thin, or whether you work with hands or brain.

He will tell you what foods are nourishing, and what are not, and how to get fresh food instead of cold storage garbage the year around.

He will tell you why all lean wasn't healthy for Jack Spratt, nor all fat for Jack's wife.

He deals with lard, butter, eggs, bread, meat, milk, cereals, vegetables, cold storage food and all of the foods we eat daily.

The first of Dr. Wiley's articles will appear in The Day Book next Monday, March 4.

You will get more valuable information affecting your health, your very life, indeed, than you would get from your family physician if you consulted him on foods an hour a day for a month.

There will be many of these articles, one a day for several days. Don't miss one of them. Don't let your friends miss them.

© HARRIS & EWING

Gaby Deslys says that not one man made love to her while she was in America. A right fine tribute to the American man!

raised the tariff on chewing gum. Now we know why our stenographer's a Republican.

The Democratic house has

There are more muscles in a rat's tail than in a man's hand.